HOW THE TOUR WORKS

WIND AHEAD, MOUNTAINS BEYOND

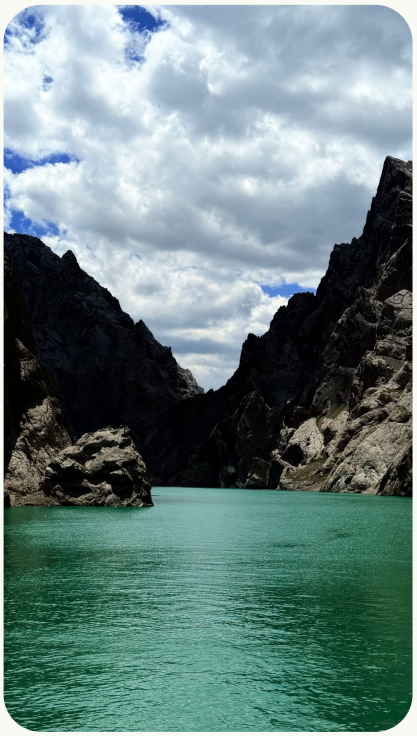

A transfer from Bishkek takes us up to the Naryn highlands. For five days we ride to waterfalls, high lakes and mountain passes, and spend the nights in village houses, yurts and A-frame cabins. The journey ends at Tash Rabat, the stone caravanserai of the Silk Road.

- Riding at altitude, between 2,500 and 3,500 metres
- An eagle show and archery at the Tash Rabat caravanserai
- A different traditional Kyrgyz dish every day
- A boat trip into the Kel-Suu canyon
- Nights in village houses, yurts and A-frames
- A support vehicle carries your luggage

THE ROUTE

SEVEN STOPS

From Bash-Kaiyndy to Tash Rabat, about 250 km.

DAY 1

01 Bash-Kaiyndy

VILLAGE · START

You are met at Bishkek airport and driven to Bash-Kaiyndy, a small village in the Naryn region. Check in to your village homestay and settle in. Dinner is with the family, where you can meet your fellow riders, your guides and the horsemen before the trail begins.

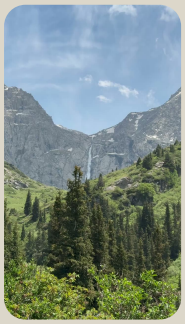

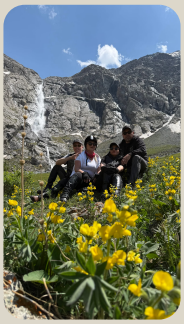

DAY 2

02 Saar Waterfall

WATERFALL

After breakfast you'll be matched with your horse and set off up the valley towards Saar Waterfall. At lunch our support vehicle meets you with a hot, traditional Kyrgyz meal. In the afternoon you continue riding to your A-frame cabin for dinner and overnight. Your luggage travels ahead with the vehicle.

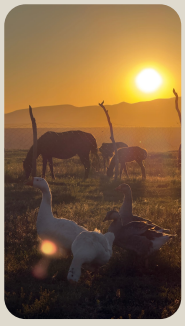

DAY 3

03 Sar-Tal Plateau

HIGH PASTURE

Today's ride climbs onto the Sar-Tal Plateau. The open grassland here is good for long canters. Lunch is a picnic on the plateau. In the evening you reach a yurt for dinner and overnight.

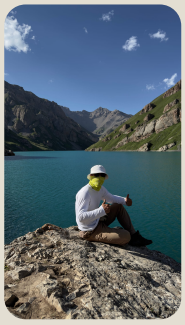

DAY 4

04 Kol-Tor Lake

ALPINE LAKE · 2,720 M

A longer day in the saddle as you ride up to Kol-Tor Lake at 2,720 m. Lunch is a picnic by the water, with time to rest before riding on. Dinner and overnight in an A-frame cabin.

DAY 5

05 Tuz-Ashuu

MOUNTAIN PASS

Today you cross towards Tuz-Ashuu through high mountain pastures, passing herders and their animals along the way. The support vehicle brings a hot lunch to the midday stop. Dinner and overnight in a yurt. Some evenings drinks are served around the campfire.

DAY 6

06 Kel-Suu Lake

CANYON LAKE · BOAT TRIP

Today's ride ends at Kel-Suu Lake, with a hot Kyrgyz lunch on the way. After you arrive there is a boat trip on the lake. Dinner and overnight in a yurt or village homestay, depending on the date.

DAY 7

07 Tash Rabat

CARAVANSERAI · EAGLE SHOW

The last part of the trip takes you to Tash Rabat, a stone caravanserai on the old Silk Road. Lunch is served hot at the midday stop. You'll watch an eagle show with a local hunter before a farewell dinner.
